Eval Comments: “The behaviors described today reflect the dog’s responses in an Animal Care Center environment and during assessment. A dog's behavior in an Animal Care Center may differ significantly from how they behave in a home. Stress, confinement, and unfamiliar surroundings can cause dogs to act out or suppress behaviors that may emerge later. A dog's behavior may change based on surroundings, training, medical, socialization, and life experiences.”

Clyde greeted the runner with a relaxed body, open pant, and soft eyes. He was easy to leash and remove from the kennel, pulled moderately on leash while bypassing the other kennels, and was easy to collar. In the catch pen, his body was tense, his eyes were focused, his tail was high, and his hackles were up. He was muzzled prior to entering the yard for the safety of the other dogs. He entered the yard, and greeted the other dogs with a tense body. He began challenging the other males. He lunged and tried to bite one of the males, but was unable to do so due to the muzzle. He required firm corrections to steer him away from the other dog. He was moved to the side yard with one female and a calm male. He attempted to mount the female several times, and continued to challenge the other male. He charged at him with a tense body, hackles up, and a focused stare, but the handlers were able to steer him away. He jumped on the handler roughly, but the handler was able to correct him with firm corrections. Clyde is selective with the other dogs, has a medium energy level, and does not have a playstyle at this time.
