My dog recently tried growling w/ the intent of biting my wife while she was holding newborn baby. My dog is kept separate from our other dog at our house because of many altercations. These altercations were over toys and territory in the house.

Please tell us your favorite thing about your dog: He likes to play ball and has a goofy personality.

Is there any additional information you would like to share about your dog: My wife and I have tried all options prior to this current moment. We understood that we had to get our dog right before our newborn entered the house. We have gotten him spayed, tried rehome him to family and friends. After this last event where he continues to growl and take an aggressive position toward my wife and newborn was our last straw. My wife is not comfortable.
